Advent and Christmas: Learning to wait

The assumption of this article is that as you read this, you are waiting for something. There is something you want, something you wish for, something that you would like to see happen as you read this. It could be something as practical as a loan to be paid off, or something more personal like an inner sense of peace and contentment. You might be waiting for your child to be a little less rebellious, or your spouse to stop that irritating habit. But one thing is certain. All of us are waiting for something.

The assumption of this article is also that for you this waiting is probably experienced as something negative. A little build up in the traffic in Beatrice and you see people starting to get anxious and irritated. We don't like to wait. Waiting for us means that we are wasting time, that we are inefficient, that we aren't being productive. The gods that our culture worship have a simple message: "Get going! get busy! Do something! Make yourself useful!

But the truth is this: No amount of busyness ends the waiting. And the truth is also this: That all the things you are waiting for will never bring you what you are waiting for. For when all the loans are paid, and the people in your family have finally become what you want them to be, when you finally have enough money, or traffic lets up guess what you will find? More waiting. Waiting never ends.

For many people this may be discouraging. But the season of Advent and Christmas says something very different about waiting. The story of Advent and Christmas says that you are waiting, because God's Spirit is active and alive in you. We wait after all, because we have something like eternity within us. Stop the busyness. Just stop and wait. It will be hard for a while. But after a while the Christ child will begin to arrive. A sense of solitude. A sense that I can be content with what I have. The assurance that God is with us. And so there it is. It is in the waiting that we find what are waiting for.

My prayer is that you would receive the gift that Advent and Christmas bring season. The gift of learning to wait, expecting Jesus to be born in you. Blessings to you this Advent and Christmas Season.

Women of the ELCA Thank Offering Service and Community Thanksgiving Service

Women Show Their Gratitude Through Thank Offerings

The daily practice of giving thanks to God for blessings received is at the heart of our lives as women of faith. Even the ordinary blessings of daily life call us to gratitude. Lutheran women have a time-honored way to practice giving thanks - Thank Offerings.

The women of St. Paul brought their gifts forward during the service on November 19. A reflection was presented by Peg Hemphill, Marcy Barber, Kendra K. Weers and Beth Roelfs. Gifts totaling $413.52 were given with the prayer that they be used to share God's love with others.

"Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for You." 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

On Wednesday, November 22, St. Paul Lutheran held a community Thanksgiving Service. We are fortunate to be able to worship together and hear the message of hope and gratitude through scripture and remember the reason for Thanksgiving.

Pastor Mark's message was from a parable in the book of Mark entitled, "The parable of the Growing seed," one of the many ways Jesus described the reality of the kingdom he came to bring. It talks about how one scatters seed, and God goes to work in making it sprout and grow; the earth produces of itself, first the stalk, then the head, then the full grain in the head. Once the grain is ripe, the sower goes in with the sickle since the harvest has come. The way this is gratitude, is that instead of us always trying to "make" it happen or force things to happen, we need to get out of God's way and LET it happen, like the sown seed - we can't MAKE it grow, we have to LET it grow. Gratitude about what God does, let it happen, and be grateful.

Pastor Mark giving the Thanksgiving message

Grateful living is important in the world because in our constant pursuit of more and better we can easily lose sight of the riches that lay right in front of us and within us.

Please consider participating in the regular practice of making a small Thank Offering gift each day for small blessings.

The annual Thank Offering service is held each November.

We celebrated the baptism of Kate Ann Stein on November 26, daughter of BJ and Shannon Stein. Sponsors were Megan Langenberg and Danielle Reeson.

Congratulations to Kate and her family. We are excited to fulfill our baptismal promises to help Kate grow in her faith.

Many Will Find Winter Warmth

As we cleaned out our closets, others were given the things needed to stay warm this winter. Our donations were delivered to the Coat Closet at First Christian Church in Beatrice and included the following cold weather items:

- ◆ 21 children's coats ◆ 12 men's coats and coveralls ◆ 17 women's coats ◆ 25 hats ◆
- ◆ 3 pairs of gloves ◆ 2 pairs of snow boots ◆ 9 pairs of socks and 1 pair of snow goggles.

Thank you to all who helped turn the unused or outgrown into blessings. A special thank you to Jan Gold who knitted many warm stocking hats to provide comfort to others.

FEED THE HUNGRY

Fall Food Drive Near Reaching Goal

The fall food drive at St. Paul is very close to reaching its goal of gathering 750 food or personal care items. As of November 26th the Food Thermometer reported a total of 566 items donated. This includes $700 in cash (every $5 = 3 items) and many tangible gifts. The campaign is a collaborative effort between the congregation and CrossWalk students. Donations will be gathered through early December. Our efforts will benefit the Blue Valley Community Action food pantry in Fairbury and the Wymore food pantry. CONTINUE YOUR SUPPORT OF THIS FUN A WORTHWHILE CHALLENGE. Let's blow past our goal while filling the pantry shelves.

Christmas Caroling and Soup Supper Fellowship will be held on Sunday, December 10

We would love to have you join us at 4:30pm at the church where we will go caroling at homebound members' homes in the area and in Diller as well.

Several delicious soups will be provided by the Family Night Committee after caroling, but please bring snacks to share to go along with the soup.

Come help us spread Christmas Cheer and enjoy good food and fellowship.

CAROLING

The impromptu choir sang "Beautiful Savior" from the Red Hymnal during our November 19th Worship service.

Thank you to those that come and share their music gifts. It truly makes our worship special!

CrossWalk Kids Continue Journey Through the Bible

The CrossWalk students have learned that God is with us through ups and downs and that he takes care of us through others. These God points were made through the Old Testament stories of Joseph and baby Moses.

They have continued to gather pop tabs and have filled 3 of the 5 jars needed to reach their goal for a 2nd time this year. The purpose is to support the Ronald McDonald House in Omaha AND to help the children learn that service to God can be small but impactful. Students have been invited to donate to the fall coat and food drives.

Day of Service

On November 8th the kids participated in a day of service. Their time was spent making thank you cards for Veterans from the communities of Diller and Odell, coloring appreciation posters for the Diller Fire and Rescue members and creating small thank you gifts for the school staff.

To help students understand the seasons of Advent and Christmas, each child was given a chocolate filled Advent calendar on November 29. We pray the daily practice of the calendar will help them learn of this period of preparation for the arrival of the Christ child.

Children's Christmas Eve Program

Practice for the Christmas Eve program will start on November 29 following CrossWalk and continue December 6 and 13 from 5 - 6. Dress rehearsal will be December 20 from 4 - 5. All students have been invited to be a part of this child's gift. THERE WILL BE NO CROSSWALK ON DECEMBER 20.
